

Strategy Overview

The Cambria Value and Momentum ETF (NYSE: VAMO) utilizes a quantitative approach to actively manage a portfolio of domestic equities. Value factors have long been emphasized by investors as key predictors of a company's strength. Likewise, momentum factors have historically been complementary to a portfolio sorted on value. Value and Momentum combines the two factors and additionally can tactically hedge the equity portfolio with strict risk control methods that are completely systematic. The manager believes that a focus on all three factors – value, momentum, and tactical hedging, produces a portfolio of companies that offer strong characteristics, with the potential added benefit of lower volatility and protecting against market downturns.

Fund Description

The Cambria Value and Momentum ETF (the "Fund") seeks to preserve and grow capital from investments in the U.S. equity markets. Specifically, VAMO invests in 100 stocks with market caps greater than US $200 million that rank among the highest in value factors, as well as momentum factors. The Fund then has the ability to hedge up to 100% of the portfolio based on top down objective assessments of stock valuations and market trends.
