

Strategy Overview

Free cash flow has long been emphasized by investors as a key predictor of a company's strength. Companies that pay cash dividends, one indication of strong free cash flow, have historically outperformed the broader market. Focusing strictly on dividend payments, however, misses two key indicators of strong free cash flow: net share repurchases and net debt paydown. The manager believes that a focus on all three factors - dividend payments, net share repurchases and net debt paydown, a trio collectively known as shareholder yield - produces a portfolio of companies that offer strong free cash flow characteristics. The Cambria Foreign Shareholder Yield ETF is comprised of the 100 companies with the best combined rank of dividend payments and net stock buybacks, which are the key components of shareholder yield. The ETF also screens for value and quality factors, including low financial leverage.

Shares are bought and sold at market price (closing price) not net asset value (NAV) are not individually redeemed from the Fund. Market price returns are based on the midpoint of the bid/ask spread at 4:00 pm Eastern Time (when NAV is normally determined), and do not represent the return you would receive if you traded at other times. Buying and selling shares will result in brokerage commissions. Brokerage commissions will reduce returns.

There is no guarantee that the Fund will achieve its investment goal. Investing involves risk, including the possible loss of principal. High yielding stocks are often speculative, high risk investments. The underlying holdings of the fund may be leveraged, which will expose the holdings to higher volatility and may accelerate the impact of any losses. These companies can be paying out more than they can support and may reduce their dividends or stop paying dividends at any time, which could have a material adverse effect on the stock price of these companies and the Fund's performance. International investing may involve risk of capital loss from unfavorable fluctuations in currency values, from differences in generally accepted accounting principles, or from economic or political instability in other nations.

There is no guarantee dividends will be paid. Diversification may not protect against market loss.

There are special risks associated with margin investing. As with stocks, you may be called upon to deposit additional cash or securities if your account equity declines.

The MSCI EAFE Index is a free-float weighted equity index. The index was developed with a base value of 100 as of December 31, 1969. The MSCI EAFE region covers DM countries in Europe, Australasia, Israel, and the Far East.

*When evaluating the Morningstar category average valuation metrics (Price/Earnings, Price/Book, Price/Sales, Price/Cash Flow, Price/Free Cash Flow), because these metrics are redundant for each fund share class, we use Morningstar's option of "User Defined Primary Class Only" to prevent multishare funds from having a disproportionate impact on the category average. The category average 30-day SEC Yield is the exception in this table and is calculated based on all funds in the category.

Price/Free Cash Flow uses category median rather than category average.

‡ 30-day SEC Yield is based on the most recent 30-day period and reflects the investment income earned after deducting a fund's expenses for the period.

The price/earnings ratio (P/E Ratio) is the ratio of a company's stock price to the company's per share earnings. The price/book ratio (P/B Ratio) is the ratio of a company's stock price to the company's book value. The price/sales ratio (P/S Ratio) is the ratio of a company's stock price to the company's revenue. The price/free cash flow ratio (P/FCF Ratio) is the ratio of a company's stock price to the company's per share free cash flow.

The valuation metrics table was compiled to provide a framework to analyze the characteristics of Cambria's Foreign Shareholder Yield (BATS: FYLD) relative to its category.
