

A DECADE OF SHAREHOLDER YIELD

Ten years ago, we launched our very first ETF, the Cambria Shareholder Yield ETF \(SYLD\).

We felt that investing in stocks based on dividend yield alone was a suboptimal approach.

So, looking back with the fullness of time, how did our thesis pan out?

SYLD was ranked the #1 best performing fund in Morningstar’s Mid-Cap Value Category over the 10-year period on an absolute, total return basis as of 6/30/2023.

| | Performance as of 6/30/23 | | | | |

Gross and net expense ratio: 0.59%. SYLD inception date 5/14/2013. Cambria Shareholder Yield ETF was rated against the following number of U.S. domiciled Mid-Cap Value funds over the following time periods as of 6/30/23: 402 funds in the last one year, 392 funds in the last three years and 381 funds in the last five years, and 329 funds in the last ten years. Morningstar Ranking/Number of Funds in Category displays the Fund’s actual rank within its Morningstar Category based on average annual total return and number of funds in that Category. The return assumes reinvestment of dividends and do not reflect any applicable sales charge. Morningstar Percentile Rankings are the Fund’s total return rank relative to all funds in the same Morningstar category, where 1 is the highest percentile and 100 is the lowest percentile. The performance data quoted represents past performance.

Past performance does not guarantee future results. The investment return and principal value of an investment will fluctuate so that an investor’s shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than their original cost and current performance may be lower or higher than the performance quoted. Cool!

Now, as we look forward to the next ten years, do we expect to be the #1 fund again?

No.

Say what? You think you just got lucky, eh?

Not quite. As you've probably heard us repeat many times over the years, realistic expectations are important. While other managers may project their funds will return 50% a year, we think those kinds of promises are irresponsible.

If you asked us at launch what our broad expectations were for the fund, they may have looked something like this....

- We hope to survive (“Of the 2,085 active equity funds available to U.S. investors at the start of 2000, only 952 (46%) were still operating 15 years later (as of December 31, 2014).”) Vanguard, “Keys to Improving the Odds of Active Management Success”, April 2016).
- We hope to outperform the average fund in the category.
- We hope our investors behave in their own best interest, and don't chase performance or sell when times get tough.

Everything over and above these expectations is gravy.

Today, given the lower valuations of SYLD compared to its Morningstar category, not to mention the broad stock market, we are particularly optimistic about the prospects of the fund.

(Okay, so maybe we are hoping for a spoonful or two of gravy, just not the whole bowl...)

After 10 years, we're proud of how our fund has performed, and likewise the Cambria Foreign Shareholder Yield \(FYLD\) and Cambria Emerging Shareholder Yield \(EYLD\) ETF too.

FYLD received a 4-star Overall Morningstar rating as of 6/30/23 out of 43 funds in the Foreign Small/Mid Value Category based on risk-adjusted returns. For the 3-year period, FYLD received a 4-star rating out of 43 funds. For the 5-year period, FYLD received a 4-star rating out of 38 funds, as of 6/30/23.

EYLD received a 4-star Overall Morningstar rating as of 6/30/23 out of 723 funds in the Diversified Emerging Markets Category based on risk-adjusted returns. For the 3-year period, EYLD received a 4-star rating out of 723 funds. For the 5-year period, EYLD received a 4-star rating out of 646 funds, as of 6/30/23.

But we're also realists and understand there will be plenty of difficult years of underperformance. There may even be multiple years of underperformance in a row. There will likely be big drawdowns in the future that test the mettle of every shareholder.

Still, looking back ten years, we're grateful for all of the 140,000+ investors that have now joined us on this journey.

We're excited for what the next decade will bring, and want to personally thank all of you for helping to make this a reality!

To determine if this Fund is an appropriate investment for you, carefully consider the Fund's investment objectives, risk factors, charges and expense before investing. This and other information can be found in the Fund's full and summary prospectus which may be obtained by calling 855-383-4636 (ETF INFO) or visiting our website at www.cambriafunds.com. Read the prospectus carefully before investing or sending money.

The Cambria ETFs are distributed by ALPS Distributors Inc., 1290 Broadway, Suite 1000, Denver, CO 80203, which is not affiliated with Cambria Investment Management, LP, the Investment Adviser for the Fund.

ETFs are subject to commission costs each time a "buy" or "sell" is executed. Depending on the amount of trading activity, the low costs of ETFs may be outweighed by commissions and related trading costs.

Shares are bought and sold at market price (closing price) not net asset value (NAV) are not individually redeemed from the Fund. Market price returns are based on the midpoint of the bid/ask spread at 4:00 pm Eastern Time (when NAV is normally determined), and do not represent the return you would receive if you traded at other times. Buying and selling shares will result in brokerage commissions. Brokerage commissions will reduce returns.

There is no guarantee that the Fund will achieve its investment goal. Investing involves risk, including the possible loss of principal. High yielding stocks are often speculative, high risk investments. The underlying holdings of the fund may be leveraged, which will expose the holdings to higher volatility and may accelerate the impact of any losses. These companies can be paying out more than they can support and may reduce their dividends or stop paying dividends at any time, which could have a material adverse effect on the stock price of these companies and the Fund's performance. International investing may involve risk of capital loss from unfavorable fluctuations in currency values, from differences in generally accepted accounting principles, or from economic or political instability in other nations. Emerging markets involve heightened risks related to the same factors as well as increased volatility and lower trading volume. Investments in smaller companies typically exhibit higher volatility. Narrowly focused funds typically exhibit higher volatility.

The Morningstar Rating™ for funds, or "star rating", is calculated for managed products (including mutual funds, variable annuity and variable life subaccounts, exchange-traded funds, closed-end funds, and separate accounts) with at least a three-year history. Exchange-traded funds and open-ended mutual funds are considered a single population for comparative purposes. It is calculated based on a Morningstar Risk-Adjusted Return measure that accounts for variation in a managed product's monthly excess performance, placing more emphasis on downward variations and rewarding consistent performance. The Morningstar Rating does not include any adjustment for sales loads. The top 10% of products in each product category receive 5 stars, the next 22.5% receive 4 stars, the next 35% receive 3 stars, the next 22.5% receive 2 stars, and the bottom 10% receive 1 star. The Overall Morningstar Rating for a managed product is derived from a weighted average of the performance figures associated with its three-, five-, and 10-year (if applicable) Morningstar Rating metrics. The weights are: 100% three-year rating for 36-59 months of total returns, 60% five-year rating/40% three year rating for 60-119 months of total returns, and 50% 10-year rating/30% five-year rating/20% three-year rating for 120 or more months of total returns. While the 10-year overall star rating formula seems to give the most weight to the 10-year period, the most recent three-year period actually has the greatest impact because it is included in all three rating periods.

*When evaluating the Morningstar category average valuation metrics (Price/Earnings, Price/Book, Price/Sales, Price/Cash Flow, Price/Free Cash Flow), because these metrics are redundant for each fund share class, we use Morningstar's option of "User Defined Primary Class Only" to prevent multishare funds from having a disproportionate impact on the category average.

Category median is used for P/FCF Ratio.

The price/earnings ratio (P/E Ratio) is the ratio of a company's stock price to the company's per share earnings. The price/book ratio (P/B Ratio) is the ratio of a company's stock price to the company's book value. The price/sales ratio (P/S Ratio) is the ratio of a company's stock price to the company's revenue. The price/free cash flow ratio (P/FCF Ratio) is the ratio of a company's stock price to the company's per share free cash flow.
